TRIP PROFILE

We ride a total of around 640 - 670 km over 7 cycling days. The journey takes us along well-paved roads, ensuring a smooth ride as we explore western Thailand's diverse landscapes, from lush farmlands and national parks to serene riversides, rolling hills, and the palm-fringed Gulf of Thailand coastline. With the exception of a transfer out of Bangkok on day 1, all of our rides are hotel-to-hotel. Days 1 and 2 are predominantly flat and under 70 km, giving us a chance to warm-up while visiting WW2 memorial sites and enjoying Kanchanaburi's lovely riverside resorts. Days 3 to 5 feature longer distances between 100 - 130 km on undulating terrain. The climbs are predominantly gradual and low-gradient with occasional short, steep bursts. Descents are equally prominent, offering a refreshing breeze! Day 6 is a special treat as we spend the morning visiting the The Wildlife Friends Foundation Thailand (WFFT), a memorable out-of-saddle experience with rescued animals. And on Day 7 we have a cool-down loop around the coastal region of Hua Hin. There is no rest day but there is usually time in the afternoons for R&R in our well-appointed tour hotels and resorts. This journey is not just about testing your endurance on a road bike, but also experiencing the beauty of remote, western Thailand before capping it off with two nights in Hua Hin. What better way to finish a road cycling adventure than by the beach?

The trip is fully supported, and your guide's expert knowledge of the area and terrain means that you always know what is coming up in terms of distance and difficulty. This makes a tremendous difference, as does the constant supply of water and refreshments along the way.

Suitability: This tour is ideal for experienced road cyclists comfortable with long, back-to-back riding days. The average daily distance is around 90 km, with the longest day being 128 km and the shortest being 66 km. The sequence of the 7 riding days is designed to offer a gentle warm-up across two days, followed by 3 days of challenging and hilly long distance rides and two days of milder cool-downs at the end. While there are hills to conquer each day (especially during stage 2), the ascents generally don't go on for more than 3-5 km, with gradients in the 3-5% range (though there are exceptions!), making it an accessible journey for those less inclined towards, well, too many inclines! For most, the main challenge of the tour is keeping up stamina over back-to-back riding days and cycling in the tropical heat. Less experienced riders are welcome but should prepare themselves in advance to manage the long distances at a reasonable pace. While a support vehicle follows the group at all times to transport luggage, supplies, and refreshments, please note that passenger seats are limited and you should come prepared to ride the full daily distances.

Biking Conditions: The majority of the route is along excellently paved roads well suited for road biking. We ride on some of Thailand's most desired road cycling routes, well-known by local riding enthusiasts but almost unheard of in the international bike touring scene. We stick to quiet secondary roads as much as possible but there are some stretches on busier main roads as well. Occasionally, we also veer onto narrow country lanes where potholes, road debris, and patches of gravel can be common. We have chosen the least busy roads possible but please be aware that traffic can be unpredictable and, especially near the cities and towns, unavoidable. While we have scheduled our departures to avoid the wettest months of year, showers can occur at any time. We generally ride rain or shine though, based on the guide's discretion or your level of comfort, modifications to the planned route can be made. Additionally, during the dry season agricultural field burnings can cause haze, impacting air quality and visibility on parts of the route. This generally applies to the months of March and April (which we avoid), though it varies year to year and can begin earlier.

Hotels: Accommodations on this tour are character-filled, well-regarded hotels at the 3 to 4 star level. Expect clean, spacious rooms with air-conditioning, professional service, and swimming pools. The first two nights are spent at elegant riverside hotels in Kanchanaburi, while on days 3-4 the accommodations feel a little more rustic as we venture into more remote territory. On day 5 we either spend the night at a cosy ecolodge located on the premises of the The Wildlife Friends Foundation Thailand (WFFT) or a rural retreat near Kaeng Krachan National Park. The final two nights are at a beautiful seaside resort in Hua Hin, ending our tour in style! Our chosen hotels also feature hygienic restaurants offering Thai and, occasionally, Western options. Please be aware that some older properties, while charming, may show signs of wear and tear, and the service pace in Thailand can generally be more relaxed than you might be accustomed to. Don't expect all hotel staff to speak English. For larger groups, we may need to use more than one accommodation and, in case of limited availability, switch to an alternative property from the one listed in the itinerary.

Day 1 Bangkok - Kanchanaburi

We pick you up from Bangkok and transfer around 2.5 hours to our cycling start point in the district of Tha Maka, Kanchanaburi Province. Our ride begins near the banks of the Mae Klong River, one of Central Thailand's most important waterways, and we weave our way north on well-paved roads through the expansive countryside dotted with rice paddies. We stop for a break at a giant raintree with its sprawling canopy creating a pretty image. We then meet the Khwae Noi River and cycle north through the city of Kanchanaburi, where we find the iconic Bridge over the River Kwai. This steel railway bridge remains Thailand's most powerful symbol of the WW2 era, when the occupying Japanese army forced Allied prisoners of war to construct the Thai-Burma railway, infamously known as the "Death Railway". The bridge is still operational today. Nearby, we also visit the War Cemetery, the final resting place of thousands of Allied prisoners of war who perished during the railway's brutal construction. Following lunch, it is only a short distance to our delightful riverside hotel for the night.

Day 2 Kanchanaburi - Khwae Noi River

Today's ride begins on the agrarian plains of the Khwae Yai River, showcasing the region's major cash crops like rice, sugarcane, and cassava. As we push on, the jungle-clad Tenasserim Hills, which have so far loomed in the distance, draw ever closer. Around the 40 km mark, we reach the edge of the wilderness, with the densely forested hills of Sai Yok National Park sprawling out beside us. We then have a 10 km stretch along the shoulder of a main provincial road before branching off for a short downhill to the banks of the Khwae Noi River where we complete our ride at a pier. Trading our bikes for a longtail boat, we cruise upstream to a secluded yet elegant resort surrounded by lush jungle, misty hills, and cliffs hanging over the river. The afternoon is yours to relax by the pool, treat yourself to a Thai massage, hike to a nearby cave, or float on a bamboo raft in the river. While lunch and dinner are included at the resort, any additional activities are at your own expense.

Day 3 Khwae Noi River – Suan Phueng

With our legs warmed up, it's time to dial up the challenge! Riding out of the hotel on a narrow forestry road, we soon find ourselves surrounded by the farmlands, villages, and Buddhist temples of the Khwae Noi River plains. After about 35 km, we begin to veer west, heading onto bumpier roads as we approach the remote, mountainous frontier between Thailand and Myanmar. For the next 70 km, wild forests, fruit orchards, sugarcane fields, and oil palm plantations line our path while a steady succession of 3-5% gradient climbs test our stamina in the rolling hills. The final stretch trends gradually downhill – a refreshing finish as we roll into Suan Phueng, a quiet corner of western Thailand that rarely sees foreign tourists. We spend the night at a simple yet comfortable Thai-style rural retreat where we can enjoy crisp highland air and beautiful views of the area.

Day 4 Suan Phueng – Phetchaburi

Today presents a simply delightful day in the saddle, with smoothly paved rural roads with little traffic, a respectable distance of just over 100 km, gentle climbs, and full immersion in the Thai countryside. From Suan Phueng, we continue south along the edge of the Tenasserim Hills, the rocky spine that stretches almost 2,000 km from northern Myanmar into the southern Thai peninsula. The terrain is mildly undulating throughout with nothing too long or steep, though the occasional punchy climb is sure to have us shifting into lower gears! We take breaks every 20-25 km at local Buddhist temples or a quiet spot in the countryside, including a scenic viewpoint overlooking the Huai Tha Khoi Reservoir at the 50 km point. Part of today's route also follows the course of an annual amateur road cycling race in Thailand, earning ourselves a local badge of honor while we're at it! After around 100 km, we transition into our third province of the journey, Phetchaburi. Here, we'll cruise past a wetland area before completing the distance along flat country roads to tonight's tranquil upcountry retreat.

Day 5 Phetchaburi - Kaeng Krachan

The day begins with a fast-paced 20 km zip down a main provincial road equipped with a bicycle path (a rare sight in Thailand!). We then turn onto a side road leading to Kaeng Krachan, Thailand's largest national park, which looms in the background as an expanse of rugged, jungle-clad hills. Here, quiet rural roads take us up and down a mildly undulating landscape of untamed forests and lush farmlands at the edge of wilderness. After around 50 km we reach the massive Kaeng Krachan Reservoir, cycling along its embankments with views over the shimmering waters and small islands that are, in fact, the tops of hills that were submerged when the dam was built. After another 50 km of blissful road cycling in this verdant region, we call it a day. For smaller groups, we may spend the night at cosy ecolodge located on the premises of the The Wildlife Friends Foundation Thailand (WFFT), where hundreds of rescued animals live under the care of experts and volunteers. For larger groups, or in case of limited availability we will stay at a favorite rural resort. The riding distance would be around the same in either case.

Day 6 Kaeng Krachan - Hua Hin

If we start the day at a resort in Kaeng Krachan, we have a gentle 20 km ride to the Wildlife Friends Foundation Thailand (WFFT). If we spent the night at the WFFT's ecolodge, there's no initial ride. In either case, at 9:00 AM, we join a morning tour of Thailand's biggest wildlife rescue centre. Hosted by knowledgeable staff, we're shown around the various enclosures which are home to elephants, bears, gibbons, and many more animals given a second chance at life after being freed from poaching or harmful tourism practices. The experience ends with a buffet lunch, after which we're back in the saddle for an afternoon ride to the bustling beach town of Hua Hin. Highlights of the route include small, scenic lakes and vast pineapple plantations, the region's signature fruit. Traffic gets busy as we head into Hua Hin, but that's soon behind us as we're greeted by views of the azure Gulf of Thailand from our elegant seaside resort. With plenty of options to choose from in Hua Hin, dinner is on your own tonight.

Day 7 Hua Hin Loop

For our cool-down ride, we embark on one of our all-time favorite road biking loops around Hua Hin. We navigate our way out of the town along the main road and cycling paths before riding through farmlands to reach Pranburi Beach, about 25 km into the day. Here, we cycle along a quiet beach road, following the tropical shoreline and pausing for refreshments before veering inland. We follow peaceful secondary roads through the countryside, passing scenes of densely clustered oil palm trees, expansive farm fields in various stages — fallow, tilled, or planted — and the occasional cow casting a curious glance our way! There's a few undulating sections, but nothing in excess of a 4% incline. At around 80 km, we join a larger road and ride the shoulder back into Hua Hin. We aim to arrive in the early afternoon, giving you plenty of time to lounge by the pool, hit the beach, indulge in a Thai massage, or explore the shops in town. In the evening, we gather for a farewell dinner.

Disclaimer: The adventure cycling tours we operate often go beyond the beaten track, and the countries where we ride are not always predictable. Due to these reasons, it is occasionally necessary to reroute or update itineraries. Our guarantee is that we will not change a trip unless for safety or to improve it. Our listed hotels are always accurate at the time of writing, but should we have to change any hotel, it will always be for a similar or better one.

NUTS & BOLTS

Bikes

Because some people can't imagine going on a trip without their own beloved bicycle, we do not provide them as part of this tour. However, you can hire bikes locally for the price listed in the tour pricing section. If you bring your own bike, please make sure it is a road bike in good mechanical order.

Bike Repairs

Basic spares and tools are carried by the guide and on the support vehicle, though we cannot guarantee having spares for every conceivable problem. Carrying a basic tool kit, a spare tube and a pump while riding is recommended.

Safety

Wearing a helmet is required on all our biking adventures and is non negotiable. If you do not wear a helmet you will not be allowed to cycle. Your tour leader is trained in first aid and emergency rescue, but to a large degree you must be responsible for your own safety while riding. It is therefore compulsory that you take out travel insurance that will cover you for a mountain biking tour.

Guides

You will be led by a local English-speaking guide and if the group is 9 people or more we will add another guide to the tour. All our guides are well informed in the history, culture and religions of the area where you are biking and are skilled at passing that knowledge on to you. Your guide is also medically trained and an experienced cyclist, able to handle most minor repairs en route.

THE NITTY GRITTY

Passports and Visas

Visitors from 93 countries can enter Thailand for 60 days without applying for a visa. See here if your country is on the list. If you do not hold a passport from one of these countries please contact the Thai embassy or consulate nearest to you about applying for a visa. If you intend to stay for more than 60 days you will also need a visa. Please check this page for more details and the latest updates. Please ensure you hold a passport with at least 6 months of validity remaining. You will need to show proof of an onward flight out of Thailand to be eligible for the visa on arrival. If you do not possess a ticket proving your exit from Thailand within 60 days of arrival, you may be denied boarding.

Important Update: As of May 01, 2025 all non-Thai nationals entering Thailand by air, land, or sea must complete the Thailand Digital Arrival Card (TDAC) online before arrival. Please fill out the details on the official website here within three (3) days before your arrival in Thailand. This is a free process - beware of fake websites that charge a fee. If you are already travelling within the three days before your planned arrival in Thailand, then we suggest completing the form while you are at a hotel with reliable Wi-Fi. It only takes a few minutes.

Health

We recommend that you visit a travel medical doctor and ask about the following vaccinations: typhoid, polio, tetanus and hepatitis A. A certificate for Yellow Fever is required when arriving from an infected area within six days.

Weather

Thailand generally has a tropical climate with fairly high humidity. The North and Central region have a tropical climate with fairly high humidity. Northeast Thailand has a humid hot and dry weather alternatively with medium rain while the coastal areas of the east is humid and hot with intermittent rain. The South of Thailand has a tropical climate with fairly high humidity.

There are three seasons: from March to June it is hot and dry, with temperatures between 27°C/80 F and 40°C/104 F, with night temperatures in the 20s. The rainy season is from July to October, but temperatures are slightly lower, because of the effect of the rain. During this time it will not rain continuously, but in sharp bursts, and the sun can come out quickly. The cooler season is from October to February, with average temperatures between 20°C/68 F and 30°C/86 F.

Food

Meals are included as per the itinerary where B = breakfast, L = lunch, D = dinner. Most meals are local and feature noodles, rice, curries, and soups. Any special dietary requirements can also be catered for as well. Please let us know at the time of booking.

Drink

Keeping you completely hydrated is a job we take very seriously. Cold water, some energy-restoring local fruit, and soft drinks are included in the tour price while riding. Soft drinks and other beverages during meals are not included. Beer is freely available everywhere but is NOT included in the price.

Solo Travelers

SpiceRoads does not require you to pay a surcharge for traveling alone. We will arrange for you to share accommodation with another traveler of the same gender and if we cannot match you up we will provide a single room at no extra charge. If you prefer not to share a single supplement is payable to guarantee your own room. The cost of the single supplement is listed above.

Extra Expenses

We recommend that you tuck away a few extra dollars, perhaps US$20 per day, for incidentals.

Money

The Thai currency is the baht. ATMs, which are abundant, are the easiest ways to get Thai baht. Have a supply of US dollars in cash on hand, just in case your card doesn't work. Banks or the rarer private moneychangers offer the best foreign-exchange rates. Credit cards are accepted in big cities and resort hotels but you'll need baht for family-run guesthouses or restaurants.
