TRIP PROFILE

We ride a total of 442 km over 7 cycling days, averaging around 63 km per day. Daily elevation gain averages approximately 850 m, with several longer days that combine steady climbing and extended time in the saddle. The route stays on paved roads throughout, moving from quiet mountain roads and rolling inland terrain to smoother coastal sections. You encounter a mix of sustained climbs, gradual ascents, and long, flowing descents, with the challenge coming from accumulated effort rather than any single extreme day. Distances and climbing vary from day to day, creating a natural rhythm across the week. Your guide's expert knowledge of the area and terrain ensures you always know what is coming up in terms of distance and difficulty. This makes a tremendous difference, as does the constant supply of water and refreshments along the way.

Suitability: This is an Endurance-level road cycling tour designed for experienced riders who are comfortable spending multiple consecutive days in the saddle. Daily distances average around 63 km, with several longer days, and regular climbing that builds steadily across the week. Riders should be accustomed to sustained efforts and comfortable managing cumulative fatigue over seven cycling days. Elevation gains are consistent rather than extreme, but the combination of distance and climbing requires a solid base of road cycling fitness and regular riding at home. This tour is best suited to cyclists who enjoy long, steady rides at a controlled pace and who feel comfortable riding on varied terrain, including rolling inland roads and longer climbs. While the itinerary allows for recovery and progression, it is not suitable for beginners or riders new to multi-day road cycling.

Biking Conditions: We ride entirely on paved roads, with the vast majority on quiet countryside routes, mountain roads, and secondary coastal roads. Road surfaces are generally good, though they can vary, particularly on rural inland sections where pavement may be rougher in places. While much of the route follows roads with minimal traffic, we regularly share the road with other vehicles, including cars, motorbikes, and occasional buses, especially near towns and along coastal stretches. Riders should feel comfortable cycling in mixed traffic environments typical of southern Europe. The route includes rolling terrain, sustained climbs, and long descents. Gradients are generally manageable, but some climbs are steady and extended, requiring consistent effort rather than technical riding skills. We generally ride rain or shine, but based on the guide's discretion or your level of comfort, modifications to the planned route can be made. It's all part of the adventure.

Accommodation: We stay in a selection of comfortable, well-located hotels chosen for their character, location, and suitability for a week of road cycling. Accommodation includes well-located hotels in historic towns and seaside locations, offering a comfortable and practical base after each day's ride. Rooms offer private bathrooms and a practical level of comfort that supports recovery after long days in the saddle. Several hotels are within easy walking distance of town centres, waterfronts, or local restaurants, making it simple to step out in the evening and enjoy your surroundings without needing transfers. Breakfast is included each morning. We choose hotels experienced with cycling groups, focusing on cleanliness, quiet nights, and convenient access rather than luxury for its own sake.

Day 1: Meet in Athens – Warm-up Ride in Arcadia

We recommend arriving in Athens the day before the tour begins, giving you time to settle in and enjoy the city at your own pace. On the morning of Day 1, we meet at your hotel in Athens and begin our journey into the Peloponnese. On the way toward Arcadia, we pause at the Corinth Canal, a striking landmark that marks the transition from mainland Greece into the Peloponnese. From here, we continue inland toward the Tripoli area. We prepare the bikes and head out for a relaxed warm-up ride on quiet country roads, an easy introduction to the terrain and rhythm of the week. A light lunch is included along the way, giving you time to refuel before finishing the ride. In the afternoon, we transfer to the mountain village of Vytina, our base for the coming nights. After checking in, we gather for dinner and settle into the journey ahead. Please let us know if you would like recommendations for pre-tour accommodation in Athens or assistance with arrival arrangements.

Day 2: Arcadian Villages Loop from Vytina

Today we set out on a loop ride from Vytina, riding deeper into the mountainous heart of Arcadia. The route links a series of traditional villages, connected by quiet roads and surrounded by fir forests and open mountain scenery. We ride first toward Dimitsana, a historic settlement built along a ridge, before continuing on to Stemnitsa, known for its well-preserved stone houses and compact village centre. We stop here for lunch, with time to enjoy the village before continuing the ride. From Stemnitsa, the route leads through forested sections to the small mountain village of Elati, before the final stretch back to Vytina. With steady climbs and flowing descents throughout the day, the ride offers a rewarding sense of Arcadia's terrain and rhythm. By late afternoon, we return to Vytina. The evening is free, giving you the flexibility to choose where and how you'd like to dine.

Day 3: From the Arcadian Highlands to Nafplio

Today's ride marks a clear shift in landscape as we leave the Arcadian highlands and begin our journey toward the coast. Departing from Vytina, we descend through the central Peloponnese, trading mountain roads and open plateaus for gentler terrain as we head south. The route passes through the plains around Tripoli before continuing toward the coast via Paralio Astros, where we stop for lunch by the sea. Along the way, the scenery gradually opens up, with longer descents and changing views that signal the approach of the coast. By the afternoon, we arrive in Nafplio, one of Greece's most attractive historic towns, set along the Argolic Gulf. After checking in, there is time to explore the old town or relax by the waterfront before gathering again in the evening for dinner.

Day 4: Riding into Ancient Mycenae

After our first night in Nafplio, we set out inland on quieter roads for a rewarding morning ride through the Argolid countryside. The route links a series of secondary roads and rolling terrain, offering varied riding as we make our way toward Mycenae. At Mycenae, we stop to explore one of the foundations of European civilisation, a Bronze Age power centre linked to Agamemnon and the world of the Trojan War. After the visit and lunch in the village of Mycenae, we continue on inland roads back toward Nafplio, completing a satisfying first part of the day in the saddle. In the afternoon, the pace shifts, with time to enjoy Nafplio's old town, waterfront, or nearby beaches. For riders who want more, an optional loop follows coastal roads toward Tolo and along the Argolic Gulf before returning to Nafplio. The evening is free, with dinner on your own.

Day 5: Epidaurus to Poros

The day begins with a short transfer to Epidaurus, where we visit the remarkably preserved ancient theatre, still used for performances today. After the visit, we begin riding, leaving the hills behind as the route follows the coast south. The ride traces quiet seaside roads toward Galatas, with long views over the water and a steady rhythm that contrasts with the inland riding of previous days. Across the channel, Poros comes into view, the small island where we'll spend the night. From Galatas, we take a short ferry crossing with our bikes, arriving directly into Poros harbour. We stop for lunch in Poros before the afternoon opens up. Those who want more time in the saddle can continue with an optional loop around the island, riding through pine forests and along coastal roads with wide sea views. Others may choose to stop on arrival and enjoy a slower afternoon on Poros. We settle in for the night on the island, with dinner together at the hotel.

Day 6: Riding the Coast to Spetses

We begin the day by crossing back to the mainland, starting with a short climb away from the coast before the route settles into a full day of coastal riding. Quiet roads trace the shoreline, with brief inland rises through pine-covered hills breaking up long seaside stretches. Riding south, we pass through Ermioni, where we stop for lunch, then follow the coast toward Porto Heli. The day is shaped more by distance than by difficulty, with a steady rhythm that rewards patience rather than power. By the afternoon, we reach Kosta, where we take a short ferry crossing to Spetses. After arriving on the island and settling in, we come together for a farewell dinner, marking our final night as a group.

Day 7: Spetses Island Loop and Departure

We begin the day with a loop ride around Spetses, following quiet island roads that circle the coastline and pass through pine-covered hills. The ride offers a fitting final morning in the saddle, combining gentle climbs with long stretches close to the sea. After the ride, we board the ferry to Piraeus Port (Athens), marking the end of the tour. Please let us know if you would like assistance with onward travel arrangements.

 Breakfast

Disclaimer: The adventure cycling tours we operate often go beyond the beaten track, and the countries where we ride are not always predictable. Due to these reasons, it is occasionally necessary to reroute or update itineraries. Our guarantee is that we will not change a trip unless for safety or to improve it. Our listed hotels are always accurate at the time of writing, but should we have to change any hotel, it will always be for a similar or better one.

NUTS & BOLTS

Bikes

Because some people can't imagine going on a trip without their own beloved bicycle, we do not provide them as part of this tour. However, you can hire bikes locally for the price listed in the tour pricing section. If you bring your own bike, please make sure it is a road bike in good mechanical order. A small number of e-bikes are available on request. Sizes are limited, so please contact us before booking to check suitability.

Bike Repairs

Basic spares and tools are carried by the guide and on the support vehicle, though we cannot guarantee having spares for every conceivable problem. Carrying a basic tool kit, a spare tube and a pump while riding is recommended.

Safety

Wearing a helmet is required on all our biking adventures and is non negotiable. If you do not wear a helmet you will not be allowed to cycle. Your tour leader is trained in first aid and emergency rescue, but to a large degree you must be responsible for your own safety while riding. It is therefore compulsory that you take out travel insurance that will cover you for a mountain biking tour.

Guides

You will be led by a local English-speaking guide and if the group is 9 people or more we will add another guide to the tour. All our guides are well informed in the history, culture and religions of the area where you are biking and are skilled at passing that knowledge on to you. Your guide is also medically trained and an experienced cyclist, able to handle most minor repairs en route.

THE NITTY GRITTY

Passports and Visas

Greece is a member of the Schengen Area. Citizens of the UK, US, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand do not require a visa for short-term tourism. These travellers are permitted to stay for up to 90 days within any 180-day period.

Visa-exempt travellers are required to obtain a valid ETIAS (European Travel Information and Authorisation System) approval prior to arrival. This digital registration is linked to your passport and is valid for three years. Additionally, the Entry/Exit System (EES) is operational at all borders. This involves a quick biometric registration, including a facial image and fingerprints, upon your first entry into the Schengen zone. For citizens of the EU, Switzerland, and Norway, entry is permitted with a valid National ID card or passport. Please ensure your passport is valid for at least three months beyond your intended departure date.

Health & Insurance

No specific vaccinations are mandatory for entry, though it is advisable to be current on standard boosters such as Tetanus and Hepatitis A/B.

Comprehensive travel insurance is essential and should specifically cover cycling and medical evacuation. This is particularly important if you are exploring remote island roads or the high Pindus Mountains. If you are an EU citizen, ensure you carry a valid European Health Insurance Card (EHIC). UK citizens should carry a Global Health Insurance Card (GHIC) to access reciprocal state-provided healthcare during their stay.

Weather

The Greek climate is typically Mediterranean, featuring long, dry summers and mild, wet winters.

- The Best Window: April to June and September to October are the ideal months for cycling. During these periods, the temperatures are comfortable and the landscapes are at their most vibrant.
- Summer Heat: In July and August, temperatures can frequently exceed 35°C. During this time, coastal breezes offer some relief, but inland mountain routes remain the best escape from the heat.
- Mountain Conditions: Weather in high-altitude regions like the Peloponnese or Central Greece can change rapidly. Even in late spring, mountain passes can be significantly cooler than the coast.
- Gear: Breathable, high-quality sun protection is vital. A light, windproof layer is also recommended for long descents or cooler evening sea breezes.

Food

Greek cuisine is a masterclass in the Mediterranean diet, focusing on fresh, seasonal, and local ingredients. Signature dishes include Moussaka (layers of aubergine and spiced meat), fresh grilled octopus, and the ubiquitous Greek salad topped with premium feta. The regional specialities, such as the wild mountain greens known as Horta or the honey-soaked Baklava, provide a true taste of the landscape. Most meals are served family-style to encourage sharing. We cater to all dietary needs, so please notify us of any requirements at the time of booking.

Drink

Staying hydrated is a priority, particularly during the warm climbs of the mainland. We provide ample water and local snacks during every ride. Greece has a winemaking tradition that spans millennia. You should sample the crisp, volcanic whites of the islands or the robust Xinomavro reds of the north. For a local post-ride ritual, try a small glass of Ouzo or Tsipouro, often served with a small plate of appetizers. Please note that soft drinks and alcohol during meals are not included in the tour price.

Solo Travellers

SpiceRoads welcomes solo adventurers and does not charge a mandatory single supplement. We will arrange for you to share a room with another traveller of the same gender. If no match is available, you will receive a single room at no additional cost. If you prefer to guarantee your own private room for the duration of the trip, a single supplement is available at the rate listed in the tour pricing.

Extra Expenses

Greece offers excellent value, but you should budget for personal incidentals. This includes post-ride coffees in a traditional Kafenio, local handicrafts such as olive wood products or ceramics, and tips for your support team.

Money

The currency of Greece is the Euro (€).

- ATMs: Cash machines are widely available in all towns and at major ports. They accept most international debit and credit cards.
- Cards: Visa and Mastercard are accepted in most hotels, restaurants, and larger shops.
- Cash: It is highly recommended to carry a small amount of cash for use in small village tavernas or for minor purchases in more remote rural areas where card machines may not always be available.
