TRIP PROFILE

This trip is recommended for confident and physically fit riders looking for a challenging experience with a variety of off-road activities. At times, the experience may seem daunting, but the rewards for your determination are priceless and will provide lasting memories once you decide to get moving!

This multi-activity exploration will cover 218 km in six adventure-packed days, and you are sure to experience practically everything that epitomises Mongolia: wide open plains, short steep climbs followed by long downhill stretches, gushing rivers, compressed earthy terrain, and dirt trails mainly used by wild animals and herders. Those with outdoor spirit will surely maximise their time out of this adventure-packed expedition.

Suitability: The majority of this trip takes place off road, so we recommend that participants are physically fit and confident riding on rough terrain. There is one tough trek, and again, a moderate level of physical fitness will be an asset.

Biking Conditions: The off-road portions of this trip are complimented by flat, hard-packed terrain. While the trails are generally smooth, some passes have loose gravel and sandy patches that could prove hazardous to riders. Additionally, some of the descents can be rocky.

Day 1 Arrive in Ulaanbaatar

Upon arrival in Ulaanbaatar, we meet at the hotel for a trip briefing and later take a tour around the Mongolian capital. The highlight is the Gandan Monastery, housing the the Megzhid Janraisig, a massive 80-ft tall gold-plated Buddha image. Other attractions include the central Sukhbaatar Square, which features an equestrian statue of Damdin Sühbaatar, a leader of Mongolia's 1921 revolution, and the Natural History Museum with its dinosaur skeletons. We meet up for a Mongolian dinner before resting for an early start the next day.

Day 2 Ulaanbaatar – Janchivlan – Shohoi Tsagaan

We rise early and transfer from the capital on tarmac road to the start of our adventure. Mounting our bikes, we ride up to a small pass where three water catchments meet. The challenge awaits us in the very last part of the ride as the climb, although short, is quite steep – 1,930 m – and sure to get you out of the saddle! However, the reward is a swooping downhill followed by a gradual ascent across open steppe grassland to stay the night in a tented camp adjacent to the Tuul River.

Day 3 Shohoi Tsagaan – Zuun Bayan

We have another adventurous ride ahead of us today, although with less overall ascents. We cycle past occasional encampments of traditional felt-walled tents of herders and their large flocks of sheep and goats, and, on occasions, horses. High up at a major pass at 1887 m, we are rewarded with exhilarating panoramic views before enjoying a swift downhill alongside a stream. Here the track is a bit rocky with small river rocks, and, as we'll be doing some small stream crossings today, so be prepared to get your feet wet. Then, we call it a day at a cosy riverside camp after crossing the Tuul River. This is a gateway to the Khan Khenty, a spectacular land of wooded mountains that mark the southern edge of the Siberian Taiga.

Day 4 Zuun Bayan – Sutsadav

We switch to trekking along the Sutsadav Ridge, with spectacular views of vast valleys with serene countryside and lush forests covering the hillsides in every direction we look. Winding our way on single trails made by wild animals and local herding horsemen, we climb to altitudes ranging from 1,600 - 1,900 m. Up on the high point embraced by beautiful granite boulders and wildflowers, we stop for one of the most scenic snack breaks ever and descend to lunch and camp at the foothill of the 2,656-m Altan Olgii Mountain, which is our next day's challenge.

Day 5 Altan Olgii Mountain

We tackle the most rewarding challenge of the tour by climbing Altan Olgii Mountain, on the edge of the pristine Siberian Range. The last frontier of human habitation, it is covered in dense woods and home to abundant wildlife, such as bears, wolves, deer, and sables, to name just a few, and, at 2,600 m above sea level, will blow us away with the endless sea of mountains and forests. We return to our camp for dinner and a well-deserved rest after the memorable seven-hour trekking adventure.

Day 6 Altan Olgii Mountain – Tuul River

We switch mode again, this time to a time-honoured local tradition and trek on Mongolian horses to the confluence of the Tuul and Terelj Rivers. Though small in stature, these horses have roamed the country for centuries and even outnumber the human population! Our stocky buddies are trained in a way quite different from those in the West and respond to a different set of commands and behaviour from the rider. But don't worry, our local riding guides will instruct and accompany you when riding to ensure your safety. In addition, the terrain is flat, allowing you to enjoy a good riding pace all the way to our last night in a tented camp, where you might be lucky to sample horse milk and cheese during dinner.

Day 7 Tuul River – Yolt Pass

We ride our horses downstream along the scenic Tuul River and continue beyond its confluence with the Terelj River before wading the latter. Once across the Terelj, we enter Terelj National Park, a spectacular bowl of wooded mountains and interesting-looking granite formations such as the “Turtle Rock” and the “Praying Lama Rock.” For the night, we settle in a Mongolian camp that comprises of traditional felt-covered gers, or yurts.

Day 8 Yolt Pass – Ulaanbaatar

After breakfast, we transfer back to Ulaanbaatar. Then you are free to explore the capital or relax after the long journey. We gather again in the evening for a farewell dinner made complemented by a fascinating Mongolian folk concert.

Bikes

The bikes are Giants with lightweight alloy frames, 24- to 27-speed gearing, disc-brakes, and Shimano components and front suspension. If you bring your own bike, please make sure it is a mountain bike, preferably with front suspension, in good mechanical order.

Bike Repairs

Basic spares and tools are carried by the guide and on the support vehicle, though we cannot guarantee having spares for every conceivable problem. Carrying a basic tool kit, a spare tube and a pump while riding is recommended.

Safety

Wearing a helmet is required on all our biking adventures and is non negotiable. If you do not wear a helmet you will not be allowed to cycle. Your tour leader is trained in first aid and emergency rescue, but to a large degree you must be responsible for your own safety while riding. It is therefore compulsory that you take out travel insurance that will cover you for a mountain biking tour.

Guides

You will be led by a local English-speaking guide and if the group is 9 people or more we will add another guide to the tour. All our guides are well informed in the history, culture and religions of the area where you are biking and are skilled at passing that knowledge on to you. Your guide is also medically trained and an experienced cyclist, able to handle most minor repairs en route.

THE NITTY GRITTY

Passports and Visas

All nationalities entering Mongolia require a passport that must be valid for six months beyond the intended length of stay. Most nationalities require a single entry visa for trips to Mongolia. For a list of visa exempted countries please click here. Visa regulations in Mongolia can and do change without notice, so please give yourself enough time to check the current regulations to ensure you have the proper documents before embarking on this trip. If only transiting through China there is no need for a Chinese Visa.

Health

Recommended vaccinations include typhoid, polio, tetanus and Hepatitis A. A certificate for Yellow Fever is required if arriving from an infected area within the prior six days. This is not a malarial area. Please speak to your doctor/physician for the most recent information.

Weather

Mongolia is home to extreme weather conditions that are constantly changing. Summertime occurs during the months of June, July, and August and daytime temperatures range from 20 to 30 degrees C (15 degrees in the evenings). This is also the rainy season, so plan on getting wet during your two-week adventure. Autumn begins in September, with daytime temperatures of 15 to 25 degrees C (5 to 10 degrees in the evenings). During the winter, temperatures in Mongolia can drop to -40 degrees C, however snow can fall at any given time of the year. For this reason, please be prepared for cold weather and bring appropriate clothing.

Food

Meals are included in the itinerary where B = breakfast, L = lunch, and D = dinner. Most meals will be prepared by the cooking team on the support staff and feature Western-style cuisine with a sampling of Mongolian food. Any special dietary requirements can also be catered for as well. Please let us know at the time of booking.

Drink

Keeping you completely hydrated is a job we take very seriously. Cold water, some energy-restoring local fruit and soft drinks are included in the tour price while riding. Soft drinks and other beverages during meals are not included. Beer and alcohol are NOT included in the price.

Solo Travelers

SpiceRoads does not require you to pay a surcharge for travelling alone. We will arrange for you to share accommodation with another traveller of the same gender and if we can not match you up we will provide a single room at no extra charge. If you prefer not to share a single supplement is payable to guarantee your own room. The cost of the single supplement is listed above.

Extra Expenses

We recommend that you tuck away a few extra dollars a day for incidentals. Included entrance fees are those for the listed sites and national parks that are part of the itinerary. Any other site fees are not included.

Money

The Mongolian currency is the tögrög (T). Dollars can be changed at banks and exchange offices in Ulaanbaatar. There are ATMs in the capital which accept Visa and MasterCard and work most of the time, but it is best to have a debit card linked to your bank account. Remember to change all your tögrög when leaving the country as it's worthless elsewhere.
