TRIP PROFILE

We ride a total of 537 km in 10 cycling days and across three islands. We designed the route to experience a wide variety of the Philippines' terrain and scenery, including rural areas, forests, highlands, and coasts. All of the riding takes place on paved roads. Most days involve climbing, though the downhills are equally as prominent – some are truly exciting as we come down from mountains to the coast. Your guide's expert knowledge of the area and terrain means that you always know what is coming up in terms of distance and difficulty. This makes a tremendous difference, as does the constant supply of water and refreshments along the way. This tour is fully supported, with a vehicle following us at all times. In Bohol and Siquijor, we use quintessential Filipino jeepneys: converted jeeps with benches in the back. These are open-air with no AC. In Cebu, we use a commuter van with AC.

The riding is complemented by visits to historic sites, such as impressive Spanish-colonial churches, and areas of natural beauty, such as the Chocolate Hills or the interior highlands of Siquijor. In the afternoons, there is usually plenty of time for R&R in our well-appointed tour hotels and resorts, most of which have pools. We have one rest day on the coast near Anda, and at various other points in the tour, there are opportunities for optional activities such as snorkelling.

Suitability: This tour offers a mix of challenging and leisurely riding. Climbing can be expected on most days, with both gradual and steep ascents throughout the tour. Downhills and flat sections provide a nice balance and are just as prominent. Having a basic level of physical fitness, being comfortable on a mountain bike, and possessing good handling skills will allow you to enjoy this tour more. The main challenge of the tour is keeping up stamina over back-to-back riding days and cycling in the tropical heat. The pace is leisurely, with plenty of refreshment stops, so riders with less experience are more than welcome to join. A support vehicle is available at all times to provide refuge for weary riders. Almost all of the riding takes place on paved roads, so this tour is not suitable for any riders seeking off-road experiences.

Biking Conditions: We cycle almost entirely on paved roads. Most are in very good condition, though the occasional broken or cratered road does present itself – nothing that our mountain bikes can't handle! There are no designated bike paths in the Philippines and the width of shoulders varies. So, be prepared to share the road with other vehicles, such as jeepneys, motorised rickshaws, cars, and the occasional bus. Rainfall is not uncommon in the Philippines at any time of year. We generally ride rain or shine, but based on the guide's discretion or your level of comfort, modifications to the planned route can be made. It's all part of the adventure!

Accommodation: In areas with a well-developed tourism infrastructure such as Cebu, Anda, and Siquijor, we stay in deluxe, character-rich hotels at the 4-star level. You can expect elevated comfort, professional staff, swimming pools, bars, and breakfast spreads worth waking up early for. Hotels in local areas, while still more than adequate for hard-working cyclists, tend to be simpler with fewer amenities and facilities, as well as a more relaxed service pace. Some older properties may show signs of wear and tear. For larger groups, we may need to use more than one accommodation and, in the case of limited availability, switch to an alternative property from the one listed in the itinerary.

Day 1: Meet in Cebu

Welcome to Cebu, the “Queen City of the South”! We will pick you up from Mactan-Cebu International Airport and transfer you to our tour hotel in the city. In the evening, we convene for a trip meeting and welcome dinner. If you arrive early, make sure to do some exploring! Cebu is where the Spanish first made landfall in the 16th century, an encounter memorialised in Catholic churches and a fort still standing in the city today. Cebu is the main hub of the Visayas region – a coastal metropolis filled with sprawling neighbourhoods, bustling markets, and some great local food!

Day 2: Cebu → Tagbilaran → Loboc

In the early morning, we head to the pier to catch a ferry bound for Bohol Island. Watch as Cebu’s cityscape fades into the endless blue expanse of the ocean. After a two-hour voyage, we arrive in the city of Tagbilaran where we meet our trusty support vehicle, a quintessential Philippine ‘jeepney’, and transfer a short distance for lunch and bike fitting. Then, it’s time to hit the road! Today’s ride covers a gentle 30 km, giving us our first taste of the charming Visayas countryside. After 12 km, we stop for a break at a Tarsier Sanctuary. Tarsiers, the world’s smallest primates, are native to Bohol and with the help of a local guide, we’ll venture into the forest for a chance to encounter these adorable, tiny, nocturnal creatures taking their daytime siestas. While sightings are highly likely, bear in mind that these are wild animals so guarantees cannot be made. We then continue cycling through rural Bohol, tackling some hills before concluding with a fabulous, winding downhill to the picturesque Loboc River. Here you can go kayaking, enjoy a massage, or simply chill by the river.

Day 3: Loboc → Chocolate Hills

Today's ride takes us deep into Bohol's interior. Doing so will require a fair bit of gradual climbing, but the scenery along the way makes it well worth the effort. After 5 km, we swing by a viewpoint overlooking a gorge of the Loboc River, enveloped in a thick jungle canopy. For those keen, you can glide above the gorge by zip line or cable car (at your own expense). Back on our bikes, we then gradually rise to the top of the Carmen Plateau, along the way passing through a rustic rural landscape of rice paddies, coconut groves, and fruit orchards. After around 40 km, we reach the world-famous Chocolate Hills, an enchanting landscape blanketed by 1,200 symmetrical, brown-earth-hued mounds. Local legend has it that the hills were formed by quarrelling giants hurling boulders at each other. There's also a geological explanation, but that's a little more technical! We'll ascend by car to one of the hills' peaks, where lunch and panoramic views await, before spending the night at a simple yet cosy guesthouse near the town of Carmen.

Day 4: Carmen → Sierra Bullones → Anda

Today presents a rewarding challenge as we traverse the Sierra Bullones highlands en route to the coastal haven of Anda. We begin with a leisurely 20 km on flat roads flanked by picturesque farmlands on either side. With our legs warmed up, we'll be ready to tackle a 17 km uphill into the rolling hills of Sierra Bullones. The landscape unfolds in a tapestry of lush jungle and emerald rice terraces, showcasing rural Philippines at its finest. Accompanied by scenes of wallowing buffaloes and farmers tending to their fields, we press forth to the summit at 790 m ASL. Once at the top, we know what comes next: a 20 km descent down the other side of the highlands, whisking past villages and treated to sweeping vistas of mist-clad mountains surrounding rice terraces. Arriving in Jagna, we refuel with lunch and continue our journey for another 30 km to Anda, tracing an undulating, coast-hugging route that offers frequent glimpses of scenic bays. Our ride ends amidst the rocky headlands, pristine beaches, and vibrant coral reefs of Anda. Coveted as a hidden paradise for scuba divers, this peaceful peninsula is also a welcoming home for cyclists to spend two nights!

Day 5: Anda Rest Day

Today is yours to rest or explore Bohol’s coast at your own leisure. If you can be tempted out of the resort, then just a few kilometres away lies the white sand of Anda Beach, ideal for a day of lounging. You can also opt for snorkelling or scuba diving amongst beautiful coral reefs. A visit to nearby Lamanoc Island, renowned for its prehistoric cave paintings and mangrove forests, may also appeal. These optional activities are at your own expense.

Day 6: Anda → Bilar → Loboc

Today, we get back on the bikes to discover more of Bohol off the beaten track. Starting from Anda, we backtrack around 6 km along the coast before heading inland, surrounded by scenes of daily life in Visayas. There are a few climbs to tackle but nothing too arduous, and after 40 km, we break for lunch in a small town near Malinao Reservoir. We can digest in the support vehicle as we fast-track ourselves with an approximately one-hour transfer to Bilar. Here, we visit a gorgeous little waterfall nestled in the jungle and saddle back up. Our afternoon ride starts with a flat 10 km before descending through the Bilar Man-Made Forest, following a road coiling through densely clustered, towering mahogany trees. By the 20 km point, we are reunited with the Loboc River and follow its path south to a riverside resort where we spend the night for a second time on the tour.

Day 7: Loboc → Panglao → Tagbilaran

Starting from Loboc, it is only a short distance to reach the sea where we turn west, passing by countless fishing villages and coastal towns. After 15 km, we reach Baclayon, home to one of the oldest coral-stone Catholic churches in the Philippines. The church’s weathered yet delicately curated facade and interior provide a tangible connection to the country’s Spanish colonial past and enduring Christian faith. We’ll spend some time exploring these hallowed grounds and then continue riding for 5 km to a bridge connecting the mainland to the offshore island of Panglao. The rest of today’s route circumnavigates nearly the entire island, featuring a rolling terrain of rural, residential, and semi-urban areas. At the 40 km mark, we reach Alona Beach, well known for its white sands and lively atmosphere. The ride ends at Hinagdanan Cave, an underground chamber adorned with delicate stalactites and stalagmites, and a crystal-clear pool illuminated by natural light. Here, we jump into the jeepney and transfer 30 minutes to the bustling city of Tagbilaran, which is where we'll catch a boat to our next island the following morning!

Day 8: Tagbilaran → Siquijor

It's time to switch islands for the second time! This morning, we ride our bikes a quick 500 m from the hotel to the nearby pier. We board a boat bound for Siquijor and simply relax for two hours as we glide across the water, surrounded by islands, big and small, jutting out of the Bohol Sea. Once we disembark at Siquijor's pier, we'll be met by our support jeepney and transfer to a hilltop restaurant to enjoy lunch complemented by gorgeous views. Siquijor is an island of natural beauty and mysticism, characterised by palm-tree-fringed beaches and shores, jungle-clad hills, and a cultural heritage steeped in esoteric knowledge connected to the bounty of the land. To some, Siquijor also has a reputation for sorcery and dark magic, though, in our experience, it is hard to get that impression from the welcoming locals and inviting beach resorts! After our introduction to the island from our hilltop vantage point, we enjoy a refreshing descent to the coast and then cycle an easy and mostly flat 26 km to our elegant beachfront resort. We'll be based here for three nights.

Day 9: Siquijor Coastal Loop

Embark on an exhilarating island adventure today as we navigate the well-paved, 86 km coastal road of Siquijor. Along the way, we'll encounter a dynamic mix of uphill, downhill, and flat stretches, guiding us from bay to bay and circling the entire island. Our first stop, after a mostly ascending 10 km ride, is the legendary 'Enchanted Balete Tree' – a 400-year-old ancient fig tree. Its sprawling roots create a natural pool of pristine water, inhabited by small fish offering a unique, natural spa experience for your feet! We then continue to Lazi, home to the Philippines' oldest coral-stone Catholic convent, boasting well-preserved Spanish colonial architecture and interiors. After exploring this historical site, we continue onwards to Salagdoong Beach, where we pause to admire the turquoise waters and, for those who dare, a jump right in from a rocky outcrop awaits. Following a replenishing local lunch, we complete our loop back to the resort, accompanied by frequent ocean views and passing by roadside stalls where local fisherfolk proudly display their catches of the day.

Day 10: Siquijor Highlands

Today, we turn our attention to Siquijor’s lush interior highlands. We begin by transferring 45 minutes by jeepney to get us to the top of Mount Bandilaan National Park, avoiding an otherwise gruelling uphill by bike! Here, we relish panoramic views over the far-stretching rainforest canopy and then saddle up to treat ourselves to a spectacular 10 km descent down the national park’s southern slopes. We hit the brakes at Cambugahay Waterfalls, where the multi-tiered cascade and calm pools may tempt us for a quick dip before continuing onwards to have lunch at a local eatery. After lunch, you can opt to cycle back to the resort by riding a roughly 20 km section of the previous day’s route in reverse, or you can hop in the jeepney and head back to the resort early to relax by the beach. Today is designed to be flexible. We may even be able to arrange a session with a traditional healer, a truly insightful cultural experience offering a window into Siquijor’s mysterious and esoteric side. However, this can only be confirmed on an ad hoc basis, depending on the healer's availability.

Day 11: Siquijor → Dumaguete → Moalboal

Today, even before we start cycling, we’ll be on three islands and two boats! We’ve got a 5:00 AM start to reach Siquijor pier in time to catch the first ferry bound for neighbouring Negros Island. After reaching the lively port city of Dumaguete, we’ll have breakfast and shuttle across town to catch our next ferry, heading across the Tañon Strait to Cebu’s southern tip. Both boat rides this morning take about an hour each and afford delightful sea views, as well as a glimpse into the hustle and bustle of inter-island mobility in the Philippines. Upon reaching the port in southern Cebu, we hop on our bikes and start riding north along the coast for 70 km. We cycle from one rugged headland to the next, repeating a pattern of up-down-straight until we reach the seaside town of Moalboal! This is coastal Cebu at its finest, passing through fishing villages and historic towns pressed against the backdrop of a stunningly blue ocean.

Day 12: Moalboal → Cebu

Early this morning, you have the opportunity to witness a remarkable underwater spectacle: the 'Moalboal Sardine Run'. Head to the nearby beach, rent some snorkels (at your own expense), and wade out into the ocean where you can swim above the mesmerising sight of massive schools of sardines moving together in synchronised patterns. Other marine creatures, including turtles, that inhabit the coast and coral reef can be seen as well. This is an optional but highly recommended experience before we begin cycling. Our last ride is a memorable one as we traverse Cebu Island from west to east. Some challenging climbs await as we cycle up the Cebu Central Cordillera, the island's rocky spine. The views over the rolling hills of the farm-covered highlands are stunning, and we end the bike tour with a downhill blitz to the east coast. Here, we have lunch, load the bikes and jump into our support van to transfer 2–3 hours (depending on traffic) to Cebu City. After arriving in the city and checking into the hotel, reconvene for a farewell dinner in the evening.

Time to say goodbye to the Philippines, extend your stay in Cebu, or travel to your next destination. There are plenty more islands to explore! If you have a flight out today, we'll take you to the airport.

Breakfast

Disclaimer: The adventure cycling tours we operate often go beyond the beaten track, and the countries where we ride are not always predictable. Due to these reasons, it is occasionally necessary to reroute or update itineraries. Our guarantee is that we will not change a trip unless for safety or to improve it. Our listed hotels are always accurate at the time of writing, but should we have to change any hotel, it will always be for a similar or better one.

NUTS & BOLTS

Bikes

Because some people can't imagine going on a trip without their own beloved bicycle, we do not provide them as part of this tour. However, you can hire bikes locally for the price listed in the tour pricing section. We provide high-quality mountain bikes fitted with narrower tyres for optimal performance on smooth and bumpy tarmac. If you bring your own bike, it can be of any variety; however, for road bikes, we don't suggest tyre sizes less than 28 mm.

E-bikes are available for hire as well.

Bike Repairs

Basic spares and tools are carried by the guide and on the support vehicle, though we cannot guarantee having spares for every conceivable problem. Carrying a basic tool kit, a spare tube and a pump while riding is recommended.

Safety

Wearing a helmet is required on all our biking adventures and is non negotiable. If you do not wear a helmet you will not be allowed to cycle. Your tour leader is trained in first aid and emergency rescue, but to a large degree you must be responsible for your own safety while riding. It is therefore compulsory that you take out travel insurance that will cover you for a mountain biking tour.

Guides

You will be led by a local English-speaking guide and if the group is 9 people or more we will add another guide to the tour. All our guides are well informed in the history, culture and religions of the area where you are biking and are skilled at passing that knowledge on to you. Your guide is also medically trained and an experienced cyclist, able to handle most minor repairs en route.

THE NITTY GRITTY

Passports and Visas

If staying less than 30 days then a visa is not required by many nationalities. See here for the full list and other information. You will need to show proof of an onward flight out of the Philippines to be allowed entry. Please ensure your passport is valid for at least 6 months from date of entry. For stays longer than 30 days, a Temporary Visitors Visa is required. See here for further information and please reach out to the embassy/consulate nearest to you if you will need to procure a visa.

Health

We recommend that you visit a travel medical doctor and ask about the following vaccinations: typhoid, polio, tetanus and hepatitis A. A certificate for Yellow Fever is required when arriving from an infected area within six days. See here for more information.

Weather

The weather in the Philippines is generally characterized by a tropical climate with high temperatures and high humidity throughout the year. Average temperatures range from approximately 25 to 32 degrees Celsius (77 to 89.6 degrees Fahrenheit). The country experiences a distinct wet season from June to November, with the southwest monsoon bringing heavy rainfall. The dry season, from December to May, is marked by warmer temperatures and lower humidity. Typhoons, or tropical cyclones, are common during the wet season, particularly between July and October. Weather patterns are often unpredictable, so rain can also fall during the dry season and extended days of sunny weather can occur during the rainy season! Usually, rainfall happens in quick bursts rather than extended downpours. As a general rule, we ride rain or shine.

Food

Meals are included as per the itinerary where B=breakfast, L=lunch, D=dinner. Breakfasts will be served at the hotels which either offer a buffet or a-la-carte. Usually there are options for Western or Filipino breakfast. Fruit is always available. Coffee is included but please note that it often instant coffee, and fresh coffee may incur additional charge. Lunches will be had mostly at local restaurants along the cycling route. Meals will be mostly shared-style Filipino fare consisting of rice, stir-fries, veggies, soups, adobos, curries, noodle dishes, and any regional specialties. In more remote areas we may have a picnic style, packed lunches. Dinners will be had mostly at the hotels, alternating between shared-style Filipino food and giving you a chance to choose yourselves from the menu. Where good options are available, we may have dinner at a local restaurant instead of the hotel. Filipino food tends to be meat-heavy (especially pork) but there are plenty of options for vegetarians/vegans as well. Being a nation of islands, seafood also features prominently. Most dietary requirements and allergies can be catered for - please let us now at the time of booking.

Drink

Keeping you completely hydrated is a job we take very seriously. Water, local fruit, snacks and soft drinks are included in the tour price while riding. Soft drinks and other beverages during meals are not included. Beer and other alcohol is freely available everywhere, but is NOT included in the price.

Solo Travelers

SpiceRoads does not require you to pay a surcharge for travelling alone. We will arrange for you to share accommodation with another traveller of the same gender and if we can not match you up we will provide a single room at no extra charge. If you prefer not to share a single supplement is payable to guarantee your own room. The cost of the single supplement is listed above.

Extra Expenses

Throughout the tour you will have options for additional activities which you can purchase on the spot, such as ziplining on Day 3 and snorkeling on Day 12. Having cash for beverages with meals and purchase of any local trinkets is also recommended. Laundry service is available at some hotels and can be paid for on the spot - we suggest doing laundry on days where we spend more than 1 night at a hotel (i.e. in Anda and Siquijor). It is customary to tip guides and drivers at the end of the tour and small tips for hotel staff (e.g. luggage porters, housekeeping) are widely appreciated.

Money

The currency used in the Philippines is the Philippine Peso (PHP). It is advisable to carry pesos for any daily expenses like drinks, souvenirs and additional activities. Don't expect credit/debit cards to be accepted in most places other than any major hotels or retail outlets in the cities. ATMs are widely available in urban areas and more scarcely in the countryside and you will be able to withdraw money along the way if needed. We suggest you exchange money upon arrival at the airport or at a bank in Ayala Shopping Center across the street from our tour hotel in Cebu. Should you require more along the way, you can withdraw from ATMs as needed.
